Greetings Church Family!

This past month has been a whirlwind for us. We have done the following: packed up and moved from east Tennessee, preached my first three Sundays, enrolled our kids in school at South Lawrence, rode in a hayride and roasted some marshmallows with Awana, and served in Judgment House the last two weekends. Whew! These past few weeks have been overwhelming and encouraging at the same time. God is so good. He has been blessing us and answering so many prayers through our transition. Thank you so much for your prayers, your help unloading the moving truck, your labor with the renovation of the house as well as the food, visits, and phone calls. The First Family has been so loving toward us. We are so glad to be here.

I still have so much to learn including your names, your family connections, and where you live. However, there is something that I have already learned: First Baptist unites and works together for Judgment House in order to share the gospel with the surrounding communities. It has been great to see and I thank God for your service! Let's continue to have this "gospel focus" as we turn the calendar to November. Invite someone to church, to Sunday school, or to Awana. Let this community know that they are welcome here at First Baptist Loretto. Let's pray for God to be at work in our church and in our families while also thanking God for what He has already done for us in Christ.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Bro. Kevin
